

PASTOR'S CORNER

REV. JIM DANFORD
TAYLOR HILL BAPTIST CHURCH

Joel 2:12 says, "Therefore also now, saith the Lord, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning." Thus we can safely say that there isn't a nor can there be reconciliation to God without repentance. Yet we find that repentance is not taught very much in churches these days.

Many times we make it appear to people that all we have to do is sign the card, join the church and be baptized, to be saved. That is not the truth.

The first step is conviction. Without conviction we cannot be saved. You see, without conviction we believe we are too good to need saving. Then comes repentance. This is when we come to the place that Joel speaks of, and with fasting, weeping and mourning we turn to God with all our hearts, turning our backs on sin and the world, turning our lives over to Him.

Joel says in verse 13 that we are to "rend our hearts, not our garments, unto the Lord our God; for He is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of evil."

Sometimes maybe we make it sound too easy, maybe we make it seem that if we just go through the motions, God will have to save us. But that is not right. First, we must understand the heartbreak of sin, and unless we die to sin we cannot be born again. Surely it is through a broken and contrite heart that God can and will save. We must also know that Salvation is a gift of God. Freely this gift is offered, but man must accept that gift or be forever lost.

Maybe, in our haste to get people to accept Christ, we have offered them something they didn't need - cheap grace. There is no such thing. The gift that God offers by His Grace is priceless in value - it is not to be taken lightly. We live in a generation that looks down on people who get emotional and cry. But, my friend, if your sin has not caused you to shed tears on your knees before God, then maybe you ought to take another look at Jesus as He weeps over the Holy City for their sin; and just maybe He was weeping over your sin also.

Father, convict us of our sin, accept us as we repent and save our souls.

Amen.

County Garbage Problems Continue

Enos Riley, owner of Riley Refuse, tells commission he is going broke due to lack of customers.

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, January 23, at the courthouse in Elba and heard the county's "preferred" garbage collector report it would take him six months to sign up 1000 customers or he would be "flat broke."

Enos Riley, owner of Riley Refuse Service, told the commission he started his service on December 19 with 200 customers, and since has advertised in all the county newspapers, but his service now only serves 548 households.

"The company brings in $2620 a month," said Riley, "but just my payroll and gasoline bill totals $2900, and other expenses bring the total to well over $3000 a month. It will take me six months to get 1000 customers and by then I'll be flat broke."

The commission discussed Riley's problems briefly, then the county's "preferred" collector, who has been awarded the contract, was asked to waive the dumping fee at the landfill.

When asked about billing, Riley said he does not send out bills because the people know what they owe and when it's due.

Wayne Roberts of the Alabama Forestry Commission reported he had a problem and told the commission he needed a welding machine and torches to build a small trailer to carry a tractor. The county forestry department is now able to work only one forest fire at a time because only one trailer is usable, and Roberts stated the acreage already burned is extremely high.

The commission voted to allocate up to $800 for the purchase of needed equipment.

Steve Musser of the Soil Conservation Service stated the final plan on one section of the Wilkerson Creek Watershed Project was ready to be signed, and estimated work would start in the spring on the $120,000 project. The plan includes work on a large gully.

Kenneth Ball, Coffee County Health Department director, again asked the commission for $3000 to be used to match state funds received by the department. The money will go to the general fund, and the commission agreed to give the funds.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Jim Folsom Jr. continues to get into hot water over his loyalty to political supporters. The latest is the hiring of a prominent Montgomery businessman "to answer the telephone," when actually he did not show up often, by his own admission. Little Jim is playing the politics of his dad's day, but times have changed and that dog won't hunt. Former Governor Big Jim Folsom was able to pay off his political debts like this and get away with it, but the taxpayers of today kick up over such activities that could cause their taxes to go even higher. Jim Jr. will have a solid reputation of repaying favors when and if he chooses to challenge U.S. Senator Denton, but the price he is paying with the voters will surely cost him more votes than he is locking up.

Several folks have asked why we speak so little about fishing these days. Well, the truth is, we haven't been in so long we have forgotten the family names of some of those fish we were accustomed to boating. Also, since people don't see us out trying, they neglect to inform us about the good fish stories they have. We have resolved to get back with the program just as soon as the weather gets warmer and we get our work caught up.

We went to Bullock Sunday afternoon to the memorial services for Mary Dossey and her daughter, both of whom died of accidental causes. We were there at the invitation of some of the citizens of the community who wanted to talk with community folks who knew and supported Roy Dossey and couldn't believe he could be guilty of killing either of his loved ones. A plus to the trip was a talk with Dossey himself. While we don't profess to know the kind of personality to expect in someone who has killed, or would kill, a family member, we can't picture this very quiet, modest man being guilty of murder. All we have been told by the Crenshaw Sheriff's Department is that there are some unanswered questions in the shotgun death of his wife.

Super Bowl number something-or-other came and went Sunday without me watching a single play of the game. We were out of pocket when the game started, and the first bit of information we got was the Raiders were ahead, the next was they were further ahead, and by the time we got home the report from my sons indicated it was so far out of reach that not even a crooked politician could have helped the Redskins at that point. While missing that game didn't bother me a bit, I do have sympathy for people who paid premium prices (under the table) plus motel, travel and eats to attend that game.

This weather we are having this winter is very unpleasant. It is colder than usual with some hard freezes across the nation and rain like we are getting this week, where it rains for five or six days in a row and all day long. The rain will leave a good seasoning in the ground for the farmers, and experts say the extreme cold will kill a lot of the adult bugs hiding in the cracks of wood awaiting springtime and crops to destroy. Therefore, maybe for someone, this weather we are having is all for the better.

Elba Mayor Bob English was telling us the other day that the railroad folks in the "big office" in Jacksonville had assured him that the move to close the railroad from Enterprise to Elba has been halted for now. They promised to meet with English "face-to-face" before reviving the project. However, if the industrial prospect English and other folks are working with does in fact locate in Elba, it will be a most question because the amount of rail hauling they will use will be exciting even to Seaboard Coastline Railroad.

We have told English and others actively working with this particular prospect that we will help any way we can, which right now is probably to stay out of the way, but we are willing. There are some people around Elba who probably can help at certain points in the plan. The experts say coordination with existing industry is real important and Elba officials have taken this to heart. A representative of the prospective firm has made it his business to get familiar with both Dorsey and Kleiner's. One day recently Sam Collier, head man at Dorsey, took the man by the arm and gave him the red carpet tour of Dorsey Trailers. He made a favorable impression, and for that we are thankful. Keep your fingers crossed.

Families Needed For Exchange Program

The American Scandinavian Student Exchange (ASSE) is seeking local families to serve as hosts for 15 Scandinavian, German, Swiss, British and Icelandic high school students who are part of the ASSE exchange visitor program, according to Carole Powell, Southern Director of ASSE. The non-profit ASSE is affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education and is officially designated by the U.S. Information Agency as an Exchange Visitor Program.

The students, 16 and 17 years old, are fluent in English and are carefully selected for the program based on their high school performance, good character, and interest in the ASSE program.

All of them are covered by comprehensive medical and liability insurance and have adequate money for personal needs supplied by their parents. The host family furnishes meals and housing.

Families interested in serving as hosts for the 1984-85 school year should contact ASSE's local Area Representative, Bobbie Zogmann at 105 Plumtree Way, Dothan, AL 36303 or call Bobbie at (205) 793-3699.

Bible Verse
Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, we also shall appear with Him in glory. Col. 3:2-4

PASTOR'S CORNER

TAYLOR HILL BAPTIST CHURCH

James 1:23: "For if any be a hearer of the Word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass."

It is not the hearer of God's Word that is justified but the doer of what God's Word says. All the promises in God's Word to man is to the doer of the Word.

We have so many people today who are living defeated lives, not because they haven't heard but because for one reason or another they have not done what the Word of God, which they have heard, says they must do. They have heard that they must be born again, yet they have failed to go to God's Word to find out how.

Bibles everywhere, dozens of churches within a 25-mile radius of Elba, and yet people HEAR but won't DO what God's Word says. And just think - Elba is in the so-called Bible belt; if people won't act here on what they hear, then how bad is it elsewhere?

In the Book of Hebrews the writer asks a question in Hebrews 2:3: "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great Salvation, which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard Him?" The answer seems to be there is no escape. The chance is too big to take, death is too final, eternity is too long, not to act on what we have heard from the Word of God. One chance there will not be a rerun next season; and if we missed the book, don't look for the movie. Waiting until next Sunday, or next year, or "until I sow my wild oats" won't do. TODAY is the Day of Salvation - there is no other promised.

God help us to be a doer of Thy Truth, found in Thy Holy Word, before it's too late.

Amen.

THE ACT AND YOU
By: Craig Flowers

What does the American College Testing Program do for you? It will help you in your educational and career planning by collecting information about you analyzing it, and reporting it to you and to people who will help you make important decisions. These include deciding what college you want to attend, what career you choose, what courses you take, and whether or not you will attend college.

The ACT processes and reports the results as quickly as possible without sacrificing accuracy and quality. In about 4 to 5 weeks after the test data your your counselor. At the same time the report will be sent to the college you list on your folder. No other part of your results will be released without your permission. This report will contain your scores, your composite scores and information about your interests, plans, accomplishments and needs.

Your test score is important to colleges since they provide information about your readiness for college level work. Many colleges use the list score along with other information on the ACT assessment as a admission process. The ACT is given 5 times a year at many different testing centers. Since 3 dates are in the past only two remain before college entrances next September. To take the test March 3, 1984 you must have your form postmarked March 2, 1984. And for the June 9, 1984 test, you must have your form in by May 11, 1984.

No open registration is allowed for this test. A registration folder has to be obtained from the high school or the institution. The registration folder contains sample questions and questions which you are asked to answer to get a breakdown on what you are ready for.

The ACT centers will make special arrangements of list dates for handicapped, people testing outside the fifty United States, military personnel and non-Saturday testings.

The test may be retaken by following instructions as if it were for first registration.

BOOKS DONATED TO LIBRARY
By: Steve Rugg

Mrs. Ann Ammon's donated about 200 paperback books to Zion Chapel most of which were Harlequin Romances.

Mrs. Lowery, the librarian, says that she does not have a great many students who check out these books, but that in her opinion "they main value of these books is that they provide light, entertaining reading."

Mrs. Mary Herbert says that reading the books helps her to get her mind off things and that the books always have a happy ending.

Mrs. Rachel Bryan says, "I enjoy reading any of the so-called romance books, because they always end on a happy note and there is never any danger. After Woodworth wrote SHANNA, many authors tried to copy her style but never successfully."

Mrs. Bryan went on to say that each author added more sex and violence which took away from what she likes in a book. Then her mother introduced her to Harlequin books. She also said that Harlequin explains in more detail the culture and customs of countries all over the world.

ASBESTOS IN SCHOOL SYSTEMS
By: Sherri Chancellors

This year, school systems throughout the state have undergone inspections for asbestos. The inspection has been sponsored by a governmental institution called Safe State.

Recently Coffee County Superintendent, Johnny Vaughan announced that the inspection has been completed for Coffee county schools and very small amounts of asbestos were found in comparison to other school systems. At Zion Chapel, the asbestos were found on the boiler, but considerable action has been taken to remove it.

The asbestos was removed by a firm sent by the Coffee County Board of Education, and the Alabama Department of Environmental Management. It took the crew about 8 hours to remove the asbestos and run a clean air check. While being removed, the asbestos could not touch the ground, and had to be handled with extreme caution. Also, there were warning signs placed around the area where the asbestos was being removed. The situation was handled around the area where the asbestos was being removed. The situation was handled very carefully at Zion Chapel, however, since there were only small amounts of asbestos found, the situation was handled very carefully at Zion Chapel, the students and faculty were never in any real danger.

Asbestos can cause a disease called asbestosis. It blocks the lungs with thick fibrous tissue. It causes shortness of breath, and in extreme cases, swollen fingers and toes. Cancer of the bronchial tubes called bronchogenic cancer, apparently occurs largely among asbestos workers who smoke cigarettes.

Letters To The Congressmen

My Dear Senator:

I feel that your recent decision to support a move to draw the Marines out of Lebanon is a drastic mistake. The Marines are there as a peace keeping force, and to stress the tranquility policies of the United States.

Taking the Marines out of Lebanon is an indication to the communist governments of the world to take Lebanon as their prize.

I, as well as many other Alabamians feel that this is a mistake and insult to our great nation. We hope that it is not too late for you and others who feel the same as you to rectify the mistake you have made.

Thanking you and with my regards, I am,

Sincerely,

Michele Farris

TIGERS KEEP NOSE ABOVE .500

The Elba Tigers continued to play "win one, lose one" last week and now stand at 6-5 with eight regular season games left. The Tigers looked real good at times in the win over Daleville and didn't play all that bad against Georgiana, but the team has a tendency to ease up and play bad at least a couple of minutes in each half. Until Elba can play four good quarters every night, they'll continue to play .500 ball and always have to fight for their lives.

The top performance by an Elba player last week was turned in by Kevin Goosby, a 6'4" sophomore. Goosby poured in 34 points in the Daleville game, despite missing six free-throws, and pulled down eight offensive rebounds. Another good performance was turned in by Ken Daniels, who scored 14 points and grabbed 14 rebounds against Georgiana.

COUNTY BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

The county schools continued to play good ball and all three teams seem to be getting stronger as the tourney draws closer.

New Brockton (13-3) lost two games last week, but didn't have a letdown and played good ball. The Gamecocks have a killer schedule the rest of the way and will get a chance to find out how good they really are.

Zion Chapel (7-6) keeps improving every week and looks like a safe bet to win the Area 5 title. The Rebels are a solid 1A club and should win a bunch more games if they give it all they've got.

Kinston (6-8) is looking better every game and the Bulldogs seem ready to make a run at another Area crown. The Dogs will have to win as a team, but they are a team and could just pull it off.

A CHEAP SHOT, OR AN ATTENTION-GETTER

State Superintendent of Education Wayne Teague came up with a plan to improve the quality of education in Alabama last week, and in the plan had some drastic recommendations for athletics. He wanted to eliminate all junior high and middle school competition and shorten the high school season, so students would have more time to study.

True, this would give the students more free time, but I don't believe they'd spend the time studying. If Dr. Teague wants better grades, he should point the finger at the parents, teachers and the students - not at athletics.

New Brockton Falls Hard To Enterprise 59-35

The New Brockton Gamecocks moved up to the 4A ranks last Friday night and found the going a bit too rough as they lost to the Enterprise Wildcats 59-35, in Enterprise.

The win upped Enterprise's record to 12-7, while New Brockton's slate dipped to 13-3.

The Gamecocks came out fired up in the opening stanza and rode the hot-hand of Winfred Horstead to pull out to a 15-11 lead with 1:38 left in the quarter. A dunk by Enterprise's Jim Thompson late in the quarter put the Wildcats on top 17-15 and set the pace for the rest of the game! The Wildcats took complete control in the second stanza as they shut-down the Gamecock attack and opened up a 31-18 halftime bulge.

Enterprise pulled away throughout the third quarter, and built a 22-point lead, then cruised in the final stanza to post the easy 59-35 win.

Jim Thompson scored 16 points and pulled down 19 rebounds to lead Enterprise, while Winfred Horstead, who scored 9 points in the first quarter, wound up with 13 to lead New Brockton.

Burgess Out On Bond Awaiting Arraignment

Walter Burgess, an Alabama State Trooper arrested in November 1983, for murder in connection with the shooting death of his 34-year old girlfriend, was freed on $50,000 bond last week from the Houston County Jail, in Dothan.

According to Houston County officials, Burgess left the jail at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, January 25, after his parents signed the bond.

Burgess is scheduled for arraignment on Friday, February 3, at 9:00 a.m., at the Enterprise courthouse. A formal reading of the murder indictment will take place at the arraignment and Burgess will be asked to enter a plea. If an innocent plea is entered, the state will begin building its case, while a guilty plea will leave only formal sentencing.

Burgess, a State Trooper serving Coffee County, was arrested on November 30, 1983, shortly after he allegedly shot Diana Lewis to death at the Humana Hospital. The victim was working at the Enterprise hospital at the time of the shooting as a private duty nurse.

Bedsole Donates

Collection To Museum

"People in Coffee County and surrounding areas are beginning to recognize the coming importance of the museum locating, restoring, preserving, and displaying historic items," stated James B. Jolley, president of the Pea River Historical and Genealogical Society.

Recently, Mrs. Tatum Bedsole of Hazoda, donated many items that her late husband collected, to the Historical Society Museum. These items will be restored where necessary and placed in the museum for viewing by visitors, and will be identified by name of donor.

Mr. Bedsole, a private collector, valued the importance of retaining for the future something of the past. He traveled a lot, keeping in mind things of the past that had not been destroyed, and was always on the lookout for these items. He carried them home, cleaned and placed them into his private collection.

According to Mrs. Bedsole, her husband took time out from his many personal and social activities to provide space for his collections and as his collections grew, so did the visitors to his museum in Hazoda. He had farm equipment, a log house and many items kept inside, according to Jolley. More people should have the interest of retaining historic (old) items for historical purposes. Even if they do not set up a private collection of their own, they could donate the items to the Pea River Historical and Genealogical Society's Museum or let them know where the items are located.

All residents are asked to examine old storage areas for old items that are no good to them, but need preserving for the future and for those who know nothing about them, but can see and learn about them. Don't forget old trunks where there may be old letters, even 75 to 100 years old that could be preserved and help people understand the history of the county.

The help of all people, particularly elderly Coffee countians, is solicited by Jolley in preserving the county's history. "If we do not do this, we may not be able to present to future generations what we now know about our county," said Jolley. "We are proud of our county now, and want future generations to be proud also."

Driver Faces Charges

Youth Injured In Hit & Run

A hit-and-run accident on Monday night, January 30, on the Old Samson Road, resulted in a series of charges filed against an Elba man, and sent a young boy to the Elba General Hospital with lacerations to the head.

According to Police Chief John

Ed White, a young boy was getting in a car at the Scout hut near the city pool when a car driven by Charles Franklin Hudson left the road and struck the parked car in the rear. The impact threw the boy against the car, causing a laceration to the head. Hudson failed to stop, while the

Involved In Shooting

Converted Bus Had County Plates

Coffee County Sheriff Brice Paul reported last week that an American woman killed by gunmen in El Salvador was driving a converted school bus with an expired tag from Coffee County.

Linda Louis Cancel, 23, of California, was killed last week by guerrillas who fired at her family's vehicle on the Pan-American Highway. According to officials, the shots were fired when her common-law husband, Curtis Henderson Lewenz, ran a rebel roadblock.

Sheriff Paul stated that on November 15, 1982, Lewenz registered a Chevrolet bus that had been converted into a mobile home. The bus license plate expired Sept. 30, 1983.

The family, which included two children, were on their way to Costa Rica when the shooting occurred.

Freezing temperatures have hit state nurseries, and that a similar situation exists at private nurseries as well. "The Forestry Commission could sustain a loss up to $252,780.00," says Moody. "Since we depend on seedling sales to sustain a portion of our budget, the level of operation for the coming year could be seriously affected. We regret that this has happened and will do everything we can to assist those landowners who will be affected."

Moody says that the Governor's office has been advised of the situation and that once a final assessment is made of the total impact, possible remedies will be sought.

Recent freezing temperatures have caused serious damage to the Alabama Forestry Commission's tree nurseries. Officials estimate that approximately 12,639,000 seedlings have been destroyed in the following species: 9,075,000 loblolly pine, 1,415,000 longleaf pine, and 2,149,000 slash pine.

As a result, the agency will be unable to fill all of the orders from many Alabama landowners who have already invested considerable sums in site preparation costs. These landowners will be given the option to purchase damaged seedlings with a mortality risk at reduced prices.

State Forester C.W. Moody says that this is the first time that such a catastrophe has hit state nurseries, and that a similar situation exists at private nurseries as well. "The Forestry Commission could sustain a loss up to $252,780.00," says Moody.
